WEICHERT, REALTORS – Courtney Valleywide

Randy provided my husband and I a fantastic home-buying experience. He has vast knowledge of the Valley, the home-purchasing process and the real estate market as a whole.

Randy provided us with professional guidance, yet gave us the flexibility we were seeking while searching for the perfect home for our family. In addition, Randy connected us with a lender and escrow agent that he works closely with, resulting in a flawless close.

We highly recommend Randy Courtney as your next Real Estate Professional.

Thank you

H&V Garcia

My wife and I have relied on Randy Courtney and his team for our real estate needs, with the sale and purchase of four properties, as well as recommending him to others, for over a decade, and he has never failed to disappoint. In fact, with the multiple challenges and unexpected roadblocks that occurred during our most recent house sale and purchase of a new property, his expertise, undying dedication, and unfailing sensitivity to our needs was nothing short of amazing.

The words that immediately come to mind when I think of Randy are: "Ethical", "Professional", "Courteous", "Patience" and "Advocate" (a tireless advocate for his clients' real estate needs and his efforts to satisfy those needs)

Randy's ability to build and manage an impressive support team was constantly evident in the quick responses and actions to our questions and concerns.

When recommending Randy to others, I've often stated that if they look up the definition of "professional real estate agent" his picture appears as an example. That may be a bit of levity on my part, but it accurately sums up my experience with Randy Courtney.

Randy is one of most professional realtors out there. He has a vast knowledge of the valley and was able to share that knowledge in selecting our home! Thanks Randy for everything! Keep up the outstanding work!

We happened upon Randy simply by putting in a request to see a home in Phoenix on a whim. He called us within 15 minutes and from that point forward served as a fantastic resource. We were very early on in the process and not entirely sure what it was that we wanted to do in terms of buying a home in Phoenix. He was patient as we worked through the process and always available when we traveled to town with interest in looking at properties. His knowledge of the area was beyond reproach and his willingness to show us 15 homes in one short weekend was so appreciated. We feel very blessed that Randy was the individual that responded to our inquiry and we highly recommend him to anyone that is looking to buy a home.

Mr Courtney is the the real deal! I listed my property with his company and he sold it like in 2-3 weeks. He went above and beyond to make my property look good and get top price for it. His office team are awesome! Very efficient and friendly. Very happy with the results!

Randy knows whats up in the market. Marketing and service are both top notch. His team is professional responds quickly the process. I would recommend him for both buying or selling. We will be using Randy and his team again in the future.

Extremely satisfied with choosing Randy for the sale of our house. He was professional, detail oriented and completely took the time to understand our needs and we felt like he had our best interest at heart. He was very well prepared and at all times a true professional. Walked me through the entire process and at all times did what he said he would do. Highly recommend him.

Randy and his team are true professionals. Every call, text and email that we sent was immediately answered (even after hours). No question was ever left unanswered, no matter how silly the question was. Both the sale and purchase of our homes was very smooth and the process was explained to us very clearly each step of the way.

We really enjoyed viewing homes with Randy, his 30+ years of experience in the Phoenix real estate market provided an honest assessment of each property that we looked at and his ideas were always very useful.

Randy was absolutely amazing during the entire process. He walked us through everything, was always available for us no matter what and made us seem like we were always his first priority. We wouldn't trust anyone else to sell our home or help us buy a home. I can't say enough positive things about him and the experience he provided us.

Randy was an absolute pleasure to work with. His knowledge of our area was immense and was very helpful in finally deciding on a property. During every phase of the buying process Randy was available to us and always happy to explain something or help us. It was apparent that Randy was not just trying to make a sale but really wanted to help us find the best property for us. I absolutely recommend Randy to family and friends.

Randy takes his business and his clients seriously. Our experience was wonderful. He and his team handled things for us (we live out of town) and got the job done. His guidance and marketing was right on.

We have had the opportunity of working with Randy for the past 16 years representing us in buying, selling and even helping us with our rental. We have recommended him and his staff over the years and will continue to do so. A real class act whose experience has really benefited us!

Randy did a great job selling my house. He and his team were very responsive throughout the process. Randy was diligent and creative in finding prospective buyers. We ended up with multiple interested parties and Randy helped us to get the best possible offer. Randy was completely on our side in the negotiations. He never pushed us to accept a deal just to close the sale. Instead, he kept working to resolve issues in our favor. He was willing to walk away from a deal if necessary.

K.Moore

Randy was very helpful in dealing with the sale of our house that was needed for our purchase of our current home. He guided us in the things we should do to make the house more appealing to buyers. He made the sale and the purchase of our homes very easy. Randy Courtney is a top notch real estate professional. Thank you Randy

I've known Randy for over a decade. In all that time, he has shown not only the technical and professional skills necessary for a great outcome, but a world of practical experience and the knack for presenting and solving issues at a level that let his clients fully understand their options. He has also assembled an outstanding team that anticipates and deals with potential 'gotchas' before they become problems. We were able to close our deal smoothly, and with good value. I have recommended him to family and friends, and will continue to do so.
