

Who is Luz?

Originally from Dominican Republic, I've been living in Miami for 15 years and I always get asked for recommendations when family and friends come to visit. So I put together a few of my top picks to share with you. Please feel free to share this guide!

If you or anyone you know is coming to the city and want to take a break from sightseeing and see some great real estate I would be happy to set up a tour. I specialize in serving buyers and sellers in Miami, FL. I aim to provide clients with an outstanding service, regardless of the price point and size. I have a great understanding of my local market and I'm proud member of an international real estate community.
